INTERROGATORIES AND REQUESTS TO PRODUCE

Richard Sweetser

Q. 1. Are heating oil dealers in Vermont currently able to offer and deliver renewable energy products to their consumers?

Q. 2. Is there evidence that oil heat consumers have reduced per home consumption? If the answer to this question is yes, please provide this evidence.

Gene Guilford

Q. 1. In your opinion, if more “natural” gas is used in greater volumes for transportation and power production, what is likely to happen to the price of “natural” gas?

Q. 2. What are the constraints on the “natural” gas pipeline system that could lead to higher prices if the fuel is consumed in greater volumes?
